

CHOOSE THE CORRECT TRANSLATION SOLUTION

If you want to succeed with your services and products in the export market, your written materials need to be in order. To avoid misunderstandings and to increase satisfaction, it is advisable that your website, user manuals and other documents are written in your potential customers' local language. When you sell a machine within the EU, it is also a legal requirement that the technical documentation is available in the country's official language.

There can be many things that need to be managed. Use World Translation's services – saving you the hassle and worry.

Translation	Proofreading	Desktop Publishing	International SEO	Terminology management	Machine translation	Translation API

Who is World Translation A/S?

World Translation helps Danish and international exporters expand globally and enter into new markets around the world. We provide professional high-quality translations – regardless of the type of text or language combination. Our native language translators are experienced in many specialist fields, so we can meet all of your requirements and preferences. With over ten years of experience as a language services provider, World Translation is now one of the biggest Danish-owned companies in the translation industry.

Do you need to translate your user manuals, website, contracts or user interface? Feel free to contact us.

